

Presenting:

Gary Guy Wilson, A.I.A., ready to serve.

GARY GUY WILSON, A.I.A., President/Principal Architect, of GARY GUY WILSON, AIA, ARCHITECT STUDIOS...pc, is the founder of GGWArchitects², which emerged as a separate "Educational Studio" in October, 2002.

After receiving practical training at the firm of Young, Fowler, and Associates in Salt Lake City, and graduating from the University of Utah Department of Architecture; Architect Wilson, a former Marine Corps. Reservist, moved to Connecticut. For 3 years, he was Project Architect for John Fodor and Assoc. in Norwalk, on numerous public and private projects. In 1969, he returned West with his family, but this time settling in Las Vegas, where he established GARY GUY WILSON, AIA, ARCHITECT STUDIOS... , incorporated in 1978 as a professional corporation.

Licensed in 11 states, Architect Wilson has directed hundreds of successful private and public projects throughout the West. He and his teams of professionals have serviced the Clark County School District on many projects, including Roy W. Martin Middle School, K.O. Knudson Middle School, and Clark High School. This experience led Architect Wilson to create a single "studio" in October, 2002, just for servicing educational project clients.

GGWArchitects²

"EDUCATION... THE COMPLETE FOCUS"

After over 33 years as GARY GUY WILSON, AIA, ARCHITECT STUDIOS..., GGWArchitects² was born-the result of an intense need for a skilled, specialized Architectural Team delivering creative, relevant, practical, and timely solutions for Educational Facilities. Company President and Principal Architect, Gary Guy Wilson, A.I.A. created the new "Studio" in October, 2002.

As an expert resource in the Educational Community, GGWArchitects² makes "Education the Complete Focus." Company President Gary Guy Wilson builds client relationships around listening, hearing, and remaining flexible to the needs of the client. An unmatched kind of service is brought to every phase of the project from inception to completion. "Relevant Design Service to Education", the mission of this specialized studio, is exemplified by every member of the team. We aren't satisfied until the client is satisfied!

Southwest Exterior Façade of the Auxiliary Gymnasium at Clark High School, Las Vegas, Nevada

Certified by The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards, Architect Wilson has retained membership with the Southern Nevada Chapter of the A.I.A. since 1970, also serving as a committee person and officer. He is also an associate member of The International Conference of Building Officials.